A word here as to matters non-political.

There has spring up a sharp competition between the La Crosse and Milwankee Rail Road, and its Packets, and the Minnesota Packet Company. People here have thought Packet Company. People here have thought the latter Packet Company had belonged to the La Crosse Road, by the way it was managed. For some reason, however, the connection between the two has been severed. Correspondence of the Sintingl. WATERFORD, Racine Co., Aug. 22. EDITORS SENTINEL :-- I have spent a few Major HEG. While there I collected the following, which, if you desire, you can make an ''item'' of, for your paper:

There has been 2,100 cubic yards of mason work done on the prison wall this season; also 700 onbic yards of stone laid in the walls of the new shops now being built. Total, 2.800 oubic yards, worth $4 per yard, or $11,809. All of this has been done with prison labor. Surveys and estimates for a sewer, to drain and carry off the filth of the prison yard, have been made. This sewer is wary much needed, not only for the health of the institution, but also to protect the wells in the village, which are being seriously injured by prison filth percolating the rocky crevices beneath the prison and village, and discharging itself into the wells. My business at the prison was to make these surveys.

Yours, respectfully, A. W. W. STRANGE OCCURRENCE .- A friend who has heen on a tour in the country gave us the particulars yesterday of the sudden death of an Irish girl at Farley, on Monday last, under the most singular circumstances. She lived near the railroad track, about a mile west of the depot, and was a fine looking agreeable girl of sixteen. For three days previous, although apparently enjoying ex-pellent health, she had made remarks calculated to convey the impression that she ex-pected to die soon. She had given directions as to how her shroud should be made, by whom she should be prepared for burial, and when her body should be interred. At noon on Monday, just as she had put everything in readiness for dinner, she told her mother that she believed she was about to be taken sick. The latter advised her to he down She accordingly went up stairs, but had barely reached her chamber, when she was seized with convulsions and died in half an hour. Our informant heard no suspicions expressed that she had destroyed herself did we learn that there was any motive for such an act. It seems to be one of those mysterious instances of a premonition of death. — Dubuque (Iowa) Times.

Robbert AND LYNCHING.-We are informed by S. Malone, Esq., of West Union, that on Friday night last, Mr. Berksy, n merchant of that place, was robbed of nearly $1,400. The money was in his house, under the bed on which he slept, in a tin trunk. The thief came in at the window, took the trunk key from the pants of Berkey, and very gentlemanly left the trunk empty. A loafing genius named Campbell was suspected, and was on Saturday night lynched to extort a confession. He told many things which honest men are not familiar with, and it is probable they gave him a terrible punishment. A STRANGE STORY .- At an early hour y A STRANGE STORY.—At an early hour yesterday morning, a young girl with disordered apparet and air of much distress, came to the house of one of our respectable South Side residents and asked to be taken in and sheltered. She said she belonged in Milwankee, where her father was a tallor; that she had been in a milliner's shop in that city, and had resolved to come to this city hoping to find better wages; that she came to Chicago alone on Tuesday, and at the Milwankee depot asked a hackman to show her a cheap but good boarding house; that the The people of each district are usually competent to select their own Congressmen, and hereafter, we should suggest to Seregeant at Arms, Asa Kinner, little Jack Tunner and such like, to stay within their own best and mind their own business.

A FACT WORTH KNOWING .- It may not be generally known that when a person is drowning, if he be taken by the arm from behind, between the ellow and shoulder, he cannot touch the person attempting to save chestra, and the powerful chorusses, overwill only assist the person holding him in keeping his head above the water, and a good swimmer can thus keep a man above water for an hour. Her "Home, Sweet Home," brought down the house, and was rapturously encored. Mr. RUDGLPHSEN, a capital barytone, contributed largely to the enjoyment of the audience and the success of the concert. The piano accompaniments, by Mr. Hogan was all that could be desired. Madame Bishop gives her second and last concert to-night. The programme is a most attractive one, and we advise all who enjoy nusic to go and hear Anna Bisnor and

Rudolphsen, WEAT IS THE PANOPTICON ?- WORCESTER ays "it is a prison so constructed that the inspector can at all times see the prisoners without using seen by them ?? The "Panopticon" which is to exhibit in this city next week is, however, not so much of a prison as a diorama. According to the thousand participate, and these thirty thousand figures are cisimed to be moving-acting automatons, who get up the fight with all the "pomp and circumstance of war."--Cities are stormed and taken at the point of the bayonet; steamships and ships of the line go through evolutions with nantical precision, and the scenery and surroundings are represented accurately. This, we are informed, is the burthen of the "Panopticon," and furthermore, there will be music in attandance, and an explanatory lecture given by Mr. D. C. La Rug.

Judge Doclittle Coming.

We are gratified to be able to announce that Hou. J. R. Boodistie will speak, in this city on the evening of the 11th of September—the day of holding the county Republican convention.

If n. John T. Touter has also been invited and will undoubted by the present. Let out Republican friends prepare for a good time.—Portage City Record.

The 11th of September 2.

The 11th of September, we believe, is the day on which Gov. Sawann is to address the Republicans of Wisconsin at Madison. Senator Doolittle and Mr. Potter are both promised to be there at that time. We suggest, therefore, to our Republican friends in Columbia county and elsewhere, not to call any meetings on that day, in their own neighborhoods, so as to leave all, who may be so disposed, free to attend the great gathering at Madison. Where meetings have already been called for the 11th, they can be postponed for a day or two. This, of course, is upon the assumption that the 11th of to speak at Madison.

VIRGINIA. - The expectations of a Demo. eratio "union" in Virginia, have been disappointed. The Douglas State Convention and Correspondence went back and forth between the two, but without success. Eachpassed resolves denouncing the other, and esols nominated a straight Electoral Ticket. It was of moire, quite plans in the skirt, but with a Slavery Republicans, thus sets forth his idea of the results that would follow a Republican long train, high body, buttoned in front with fine pearls, an English lace collar, fastened at the threat by a diamond brooch; the boquet of orange blossoms, fastened at the waist; the coiffure was a diadem of white like and roses; the hair fastened behind under a rich comb of diamonds; an immense vail of English lace thrown over the head, and falling nearly to the bottom of the dress, completed this distingue toilet. The second bridesmaid had on a dress of white silk, trimmed round the skirt with three rows of pinked silk ruching, the third row carried up to the waist. The bouquet of orange with fine pearls, an English lace collar, fastup to the waist. The bouquet of orange flowers placed in the bow of the sash, which was also trimmed with ruches. A diadem wreath of white roses and lilies of the valley, over which was thrown the large square vail of plain talle, simply hemmed. The third bridesmaid, who was young and beautiful, wore a dress at once simple and elegant. It was composed of white tariatine, very fine and thin, covered with pink flounces of the same. A high, full body, with a ruche round the throat. A wide scarf of white silk, with fringed ends, round the waist, fastened in a bow at the side, in which was placed the orange flower boquet. A diadem wreath of white moss rose buds in the hair, over which a large vail, also of tarlatine, reaching nearly to the feet. Perhaps, says Le Follet, the beauty of the bride may have given charm to her dress, but we must confess we have never seen one that pleased us altogether so much not only for its simplicity but for its real el-

The Last Sensation Story.—A story was started a few days ago by one of the New Orleans papers that a Mr. Fleury, who was supposed to have gone dewn with the Arctic, had been in some mysterious manner carried off to an out-of the-way island, where he lived a Robinson Crusoe life until lately, when an American vessel touched there and brought him to this country. promise.

From Douglas' Speech in Springfield, Il., 1853. From Douglas' Speech in Springfield, Ilt., 1859.

The Missouri Compromise had its origin in the hearts of all patriotic men who dealred to preserve and perpetuate the blessings of our glorious Union—an origin akin to that of the constitution of the United States, conceived in the same spirit of fraternal affection, and calculated to remove forever the only danger which threatens at some distant day, to sever the social bond of Union. All the evidences of public opinion at that day seem to indicate that this compromise had become canonized in the hearts of the American people as a sacred thing, which no ruthless hand would ever be reckless enough to disturb. disturb.

From Douglas' Speech at Providence, Aug. 3, '00. My friend over there—friend or enemy, as the case may be—wants to know something about the Missouri Compromise. [Cheers.] I have not the slightest objection to telling him all he desires to know upon that question. I BROUGHT IN THE BILL TO REPEAL THE MISSOURI RESTRICTION.

From Douglas' Speech in the Senate, May 16, 1560. is upon the assumption that the 11th of September is the day for Governor Seward that under this doctrine of non-intervention, this doctrine that you delight to call squatter this doctrine that you delight to call squatter sovereignty, the people of New Mexico have introduced and protected slavery in the whole of that Territory. Under this doctrine they have venverted a tract of free territory into slave territory, more than five times the size of the State of New York. SERIOES BREADE IN THE EBIE CAMADO RESIDENCE IN THE LEBIE CAMADO RESIDENCE.

About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the old waste well on the bern bank of the canal just above Brighton Second Look, at the foot of the great reservoir, gave way, and the water of the canal ran out around the lock into the level below, which is only half a mile in length, and entirely insufficient to contain the immense body of water thus suddenly introduced upon it. There was no means of sending it eastward, and the consequence was that opposite the point where the water came in, a breek occurred in the tow Avenue, damming up against the Railroad embankment half a mile below. The break in the lower level occurred at 8 o'clock in the evening, and just before 9 o'clock the Railroad embankment gave way in its turn. The culvert under the railroad was entireopinions of Ms. Joinson.

The cultert under the railroad was entired by two small to pass so much water and the embankment was carried out on each side of it to a distance of about twenty feet. A few minutes later another thread took place a some rods further east near the junction of recognition and PROTECTION in the LEGsome rods further east near the junction of ISLATIVE, Judicial and Executive departpartments of the General Government."—H. about fifty feet was made. The 8:40 Express train from this city had just passed, and had not reached Fairport when the ambankment

During the time that the water was dam-med up by the railroad embankment, it over med up by the railroad embankment, it over flowed a considerable extent of property belonging to Messre. Blossom, Fisk, Carpenter, Clough and others, and did considerable damage to lands and fences. A onliding owned by Mr. Clough and used as a sash and blind shop, and for the manufacture of some kinds of farming implements, was carried off, and destroyed with its contents.— The whole was valued at about $1,000.— Fortunately the crops on the land that was covered, had all been secured. We understand from g-mtiemen who visited

We understand from grantemen who visited the break late last hight that the scene is one of great desolation. A large raft of logs which were lying in the cased when the final breach occurred, were carried through and scattered about the ground from the canal to the railroad. Many of them have lodged at the breach itself, and will cause considerable difficulty in their removal. They belong to Mr. Hart, who owns a saw mill near the

From Douglas' Speech in "" were not sending it forward faster than usual. In the afternoon, we are told, he was absent from his post, and the lock was in charge of his son, a mere boy. Just before night, the man in charge of the Second Lock, became alarmed at the rapid rise of water on the level, and went to the First Lock where he found the boy playing chequers with a companion. The man closed the paddle holes, but it was too late; the mischief was already done. It is alleged that orders had been received from the lock tender at the First Lock to draw eastward as fast as he could, but it ed, with proper exertion, in about 43 hours, but we doubt, as matters stand, whether boats will pass there before next Saturday.

At 1 o'clock this morning nothing heads to see to At I o'cleck this morning nothing had been done in the way of collecting hands to go to work at daylight and it is not likely that anything will really be accomplished to-day. The repair contractor, Mr. Dodge, is at Mt. Mornis, we understand, and up to the present writing, knows nothing of the treak. Great loss must devolve upon the boatmen in consequence of this disaster. On Friday last a look gate at Macedon gave way and boats have not pessed that point since. The repairs were completed Sunday, but this break of course will prevent water being sent down there. The canal here is full of boats as far west as the House of Refuge, and more will be arriving constantly, of course. more will be arriving constantly, of course

Below Macedon it is said there are hundred:

of westward bound boats congregated. With such a wealth of freight as is now offering, tube is faid down between two given points; a case, of dimensions as much smaller than the tube as will permit it to slip inside the tube, is introduced therein, and the tube is then exhausted of air. The pressure of outside atmosphere forces the case along the tube which is void, and the case, with its contents of letters or parcels, is carried swift. contents of letters or parcels, is carried swift-contents of letters or parcels, is carried swiftly to its destination.

The invention is not new by any means, even in practice, for both in England and Ireland it was used to move railway trains. Between Dublin and Kingstown, and also between London and Crydon, and other places, atmospherio railways, as they arreaded, have been in operation. They were not successful, however, chiefly because it was found very expensive to maintain stationary engines of power enough and near enough to one another to keep the tubes sufficiently exhausted. The tubes laid for the London and Groydon Railway were seemingly about a foot in diameter. Such tubes as a re required for the letter and parcel posts—and even samples of merchandice are to be transmitted by it—will probably not exceed a fourth of that diameter, and as there will be but little leakage compared with that ly to its destination. will be but little leakage compared with that of a railway, which required a moving means of communication with the interior, and therefore while the oars were in motion kept a small portion of the tute open, the tubes for postal and express purposes are not like-ly to prove difficult of complete exhaustion

The distances to be experimented on in London are confined to a few miles, at most, six or seven; but it is quite probable that if the plan answers for short distances, improvements in the means of exhausting the tubes, and of economizing the exhausting power, will permit of the adoption of the punematic principle, not only for the con-veyance of letters and parcels for short dis-tances, but even more bulky articles for long

MYSTERIOUS DEATH OF AN EDITOR'S DAUGHTER-Supposed OUTRAGE AND MUR-DER .- A correspondent of The Utica (N. Y.) Herald writes that the village of Mohawk has been thrown into great excitement by the finding of the dead body of a young girl screams were heard by neighbors living not far distant from the spot, where her body was found. She was also heard by some boatmen who saw her struggling in the water, and went to her assistance, but too late to save her. A boat was obtained, and her body recovered in about two hours atter her screams were heard. It is stated that the boatmen saw two men leaving the spot in SEALING UP FRUIT.—Several of our subscribers wish us to publish a good plan for comping blackberries and other fruits. A correspondent of the Rurol New Torker has preserved fruit for four sor, sons with perfect success by the following method. He uses self-sealing glass jarg.: He puts the fruit into a porcelain preserving kettle, enough to fill two quart jists and sprinkles over it about one quart of Engar, places it on a slow life, and lets it gradually heat. The secret consisting induring the fruit theroughly heated though not cooked. While the fruit is heating, keep the jars filled with hot water 'till the fruit is ready, which, of course, prevents them from cracking. Fill up to the brim with hot fruit, and seal tight. As it cools, a sufficient vacuum is formed in the jar to prevent bursting. Strawberries, raspberries or blackberries preserved according to this blan with retir their favor remarkable well. or blackberries preserved according to the plan retain their flavor remarkably well.

It has been already stated that the firs obtained from the buffalo are nearly all rationed in this country, and in 1839 they constituted fully three-fifths in value of all received at St. Lonis, about twenty thousand skins being usually ret Lod at that city to supply the western demand. While St. Paul has for some time be in sending us large quantities of other furs, that of the buffalo has declined from 8,700 last year to nothing the present. Indeed, the crop may be considered as confined to the basin of the Missouri and its tributaries, the best quality coming from the country of the Blackfeet Indians, nor the head-vaters of that river. During ner the head-maters of that river. During last winter and spring there were gathered about 85,000 of these skins, of which, estiabout 50,000 of these skins, of which, estimating the number already stated to be retained at the West, the remainder would bring from $250,000 to $225,000 in New York. Our sales of them last year amounted to about 78,000, of which Mesers. Chouteau disposed of 45,000, and Mr. Macnaughten 38,000; but the former comprised a portion of the old as well as the new stock. The quality of buffalo furs depends upon the season of the year in which they are tak-en, the best being obtained in winter and the tween the latter and California.

The men employed in this business are now mostly half-breeds, who leave Lake Superior or some other point on the frontier early in winter, with supplies of provisions, clothing, ammunition, &c., locating themselvelves by the banks of rivers, the shores of lakes, and in the woods, between Lake of lakes, and in the woods, between Lake Superior and the Red River of the North, and between St. Paul and Lake Winjeg, camping out all winter and trading with the camping out all winter and trading with the Indians. A large number of our most valuable furs are obtained from that region, which, with the exception of the buffale countries, is the best hunting ground on the continent. On the opening of navigation they accompany the furs in cances to head-quarters on Lake Superier, when the chief trader unpacks them and chief them to his event have particular.

Lake Superior, when the chief trader unpacks them and ships them to his agent here, arriving at New York in July. These are greatly superior in beauty and value to those collected in other parts of the country.

On the Missouri river a somewhat different system prevails. With the opening of navigation, steamers are dispatched in great haste to the upper country, laden with supplies of coffee, tobacco, rifles, sumunition, blankets, searlet cloth, light shawls, trinkets, and other articles used in trade with the trappers, including, of course, a plentiful allowance of bad rum. Arriving at the appointed readezous, these articles are exappointed rendezvous, these articles are ex-pused for sale, to be given in batter for the furs collected during the previous fell and winter.

Proceedings always commence by a liberal distribution of liquor among the hunters and trapters, who are thus stimulated to trade on more advantageous terms. The tricks resorted to by the agents on these occasions almost exceed belief. Independent casions almost exceed belief. Independent of the exorbitant prices charged, often for the poorest articles, the m.st shameless frauds are employed for the purpose of cheating in weights and measures. The quart can, for example, out of which whisky is dealt, will often be found nearly half full of grease; but so stupefied have the purchasers been rendered that this is seldom detected.— Every where else the same system is more or less resorted to. It should be stated that many of the hunters are white men who have adopted the Indian habits so the joughly as often to be scoreely distinguished from the aborigines themselves. Such facts as those stated show the barbarous results of this mode of life upon human nature, and that it is to this rather than to original diversi-ty of races that the differences between savaly of races that the differences between savageism and civilization are owing.

Ruxtion, in his description of life in these regions, mentions a disgusting practice, showing the fondness of the trappers for ardent spirits. As soon as the liquor is exposed, one man rashes forward, and, after slaking
his thirst, fills his mouth until his cheeks appear distended like bladders. He then rushes among his friends, giving each a friendly salutation by spirting into his mouth a small quantity of the burning flaid. He is followed, if necessary, by a second and third, until all present have partaken.

The men employed in hunting for fors are third, until all present have partaken.

The men employed in hunting for fors are not usually at liberty to wander from one locality to another. On the contrary, a given district is assigned to each "brigade," who divide themselves into pairs, keeping together for mutual proteotion. They wander over every prairie, explore every creek, and scale every precipice, where there is possibility of finding game. But, besides these, there are bodies of men known as "free trappers," who go out on their own responsibility, sometimes attaching themselves to regular traders, in which case they conform to camp rules and sell their pettries at certain stipulated prices. A still inferior order are known as "skin" trappers, their horses and accourtements being furnished by the traders.

In all cases Indian habits are adopted, and

With their new habits they have also adopted a language of their own, speaking with a degree of indifference respecting their feats of "lifting hair" (scalping,) or their friends who have "gone under" (been killed). Nine-tunths of them end their days by volumes or from interiorities, but the life violence, or from intoxication; but the life has such a charm for others that fresh re-cruits are always forthcoming; some of these from the large cities, but the greater numbers from the border and southern States. The savagelsm of our large cities is almost to be preferred to that of the hunting ground.
Part of the payment to the Indian tribes is made in wampum and trinkets. The former consists of shells prepared in a peculiar manner and strong on a belt. An establishment for 'making money' of this description exits at Pascack, Bergen county, New Jersey. The ornaments hade for Indians consist of silver ear drops and brooches. This business used to be much more extensive and varied than at present, and will probably soon case, owing to the disappearance or civilization of these races. It is now carried on by Mr. John Drinker, at No. 18 White street, in this city.

Springfill, Ill., Aug. 22.

The extensive floor mills known as Hilmola Mills, belonging to U. Freeman, was destroyed by fire this evening. The fire is supposed to have originated from friction in a smat machine. The building contained a large quantity of wheat and floor, part of which was saved. Loss is about $15,000, on which there is an insurance of $12,000. Regatta.

Chicago Morry Markett.—The Press & Tribune of Children says:

As was expected exchange went up to-day to % of 1 per cent, premium for currency, being an advance of $10. It is exerce at quotations, some of the bankers being obliged to pay full rates in order to heep a supply for customers. The stringency must be temporary as the amounts making and maturing are innumes, and the rise will to do check custide orders.

The regular buying rate of exchange is Mo, but a fraction above could in most cases be obtained.

Currency is abundant, though the demands upon bankers continues heavy. Large parcels of Onsada money have been received for investment, and doubtless New England and New York money will be furnished to lill up all deficiencies of our home currency, should say be found.

Cincinnati Market, August 22n.—The Gazella of Wednesday says:

The markets presented very little new to-day. Flour remains duil and heavy, but prices are nominally unchanged. The demand is alogather for the higher grades. There is considerable competition for choice samples of wheat for seed, and such, being scarce, bring fancy prices: $1,25 was offered for a lot of choice white to-day, and refused. Choice red brings $1,62,105 for this purpose, but the millers are but paying $0,628 for good red, and $1,956,105 for white.

Corn inchanged and in the demand at $5,040 for ear, and $2,250 for schilled. Outs in good demand at $00 for prime. He and barley unchanged. The market for provisiona is very firm, and it is impossible to buy at less than the rates asked by holders. 150 hids sides soil at 12 and 13% of the latter for clear, and 165 to shoulders at 19%,639,50, the former rate for a lot which has been packed since last June. Mess pork is held firmly at $19,750,200, but we heard of no sales or demand. Signs cored hams have advanced to 15, and the toppyly quice light. In the grocery market there is no ane fouture; the demand is quitu moderate, and confined to the current wants of dealers. Whickey is very firm at 17%, with un upward tendency in prices. New crop flax seed is behinging $1,10, beef eachs are very dull, and the supply in excess of the demand. The lower grades are fully $25. $$ cm; below the rates current lest week. Hogs dull, but not changed in value. Stock bogs in demand at $5,50 grozs, and the supply very light.

FIRST SHIPMENT OF GRAIN FROM PORTAGE TO GREEK DAY.

The Portage City Record says that the Sauk City Enterprise left that city on Saturday, with a cargo of wheat for Green Bay, the first shipment of grain from that place via the Fex River. The trip is merely an experimental one, and if it should be attended with success, the result will be of great benefit to Portage

City, opening an outlet for her produce by water as well as rail. But even the people of Portage City and far from being sanguine that the Fox River can ever to be turned to practical account as a navigable stream.

It is alout nine years since the first book made the trip from Green Bay to Portage, and although the "Im-provement" was announced as complete at that time, it appears that the first shipment of grain was not

THE PACKET WAR.

As our readers are already aware, the success of Davieson's line of light draught packets, running be-tween La Crosse & St. Paul, in connection with the La hand bill distributed about town yesterday, advertising a "great reduction in fare" from Milwankee to Wi

nona, Wabeshaw, Read's Landing, Red Wing, Prescott, Hastinge, and St. Paul, via Prairie du Guien which was signed by the Secretary of the Galena, Prairie du Chlen and St. Pattl Packet Co. The rates are to be from this date $5,25 for first class passage, and $3,75 for second class.

Notwithstanding this reduction, Davinson's Lin will doubtless continue to get the bulk of the business.

because people who travel now-a-days are not gener ally disposed to run the risk of spending hours, and even days, upon sand bars, for the consideration of a dollar or two in fare. The very fact that the Calena

Company have been the first to reduce the fare, is an evidence that they cannot compets on equal term
